

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Proprietors.

FRIDAY EVENING, DEC. 31, 1886.

MAYSVILLE has a lawyer who, it is told, actually refused a hundred-dollar fee this week, and that, too, for only a few hours' work. He had conscientious scruples about prosecuting a criminal.

SUIT was brought against Madison County not long ago for $10,000 damages for infringement of a jail-lot patent. The plaintiffs certainly haven't much faith in their claims, as they have offered to compromise for $300.

THE BULLETIN says "The Republican has lost its Enterprise," but there are no indications that our neighbor is likely to find it.

Don't trouble yourselves, please. We are not looking for that kind of enterprise. It's too Republican.

The bottom has dropped out of the Mayoralty fight, and the "boys" are left lamenting. They now sing: "The often times in camp, the closing hours, We've won our hundred times, decay—And for the V's we thought was ours, We'll have to wait till 'smother day."

ANXET for the Mayoralty race, the statement is made that there are some "free American citizens" in town who actually expected to make enough out of the fight to live on the rest of the winter. It's too bad that such industrious, enterprising people should meet with disappointment at the eleventh hour.

THE BULLETIN was afraid to say anything against the "Star Shoe Store" man until he was safely out of the city and certain not to return. That newspaper is alive enough to its own safety not to attack anybody near enough to strike back.—Republican.

Oh, my! What a deal of courage our neighbor exhibited when he "attacked" a poor little shoe store. If the proprietor of the "Star Shoe Store" had only shaken a few little legal "ads" at Brother Davis, his courage (?) would have oozed out of his fingers' ends at a wonderful rate. "Sour grapes," neighbor. It's too plain a case.

Fashionable Fads.
Velvet with lace effect in two tones is exceedingly rich.

Ivory white velvet for evening dresses has tinted floral designs.

Bar pins with pendants of onyx, moonstones or hematite are worn.

Pompadour designs occupy a leading place in the fabrics for evening wear.

Ovals are growing in favor. The superstitious even are tempted by them.

The gold heads of our grandmothers are again in vogue for necklaces and bracelets.

Large hoop earrings in Roman finish. New designs are loops set with diamonds.

A rich opera cloak of dark maroon and sky-blue brocade is lined with zibeline fur.

Queen chains are of gold with vermeil finish and of onyx with faceted oval links.

Velvet, with Persian designs on satin ground, has the figures outlined with tinsel.

Brooches have the crescent and star design in diamonds supported by a cimeter.

Solid gold buttons are the latest fancy for fastening the baguettes of dresses of rich fabrics.

Plaid velvets have not been a success this season in spite of the attempt to popularize them.

Printed designs of tinted plumes and peacock feathers upon brown grounds, as well as scroll and floral effects, is in high favor.

Dinner robes are of faille Francaise combined with plain velvet, and a novelty consisting of stripes of figured velvet with satin ground in two tones.

A Good Man to Work For.
(Ottoman Enclosed)

When Mr. Pulitzer took charge of the New York World, he began by giving prizes for extra good work. As he grew more and more successful he began making presents to all the members of the staff. One day he gave away three hundred orders for hats. Christmas, 1885, he gave a turkey to each of his employees; next he took his composers on a picnic and raised their wages several cents a thousand ems. His last generous act was the distribution of 1,000 turkeys to the Building and Loan Association started by the men on his paper. They cost twenty-five cents a week or $2.50 a year. When he purchased them he ate at once divided them among his friends. He has so much money he does not know what to do with it. He is up to his neck in it," said a Socialist writer the other day. "He asked me to write something for him. I wrote a column for the half page and he sent me a check for $150." He has also given the members of the Press Club $1,000 or so "to enjoy themselves," and has endowed a bed for such journalists in one of the hospitals with the salary of his place in Congress.

It was in Congress that he made his only failure in recent years. He found it did not rhyme to be a Congressman and the owner of a newspaper. He was criticised for what he was not, and he was compelled to print a paper which became a burden to him. With Andrew J. Cummings it will be different. He regards his election to Congress as promotional in his business. He is not responsible for the news in any paper, and so will have a pleasant career in Washington.

ANARCHISM PROCLAIMED.

Exhibition in Chicago over an Editorial in the "Daily Worker."

Chicago, Dec. 31.—There was a little flurry of excitement in the state's attorney's office yesterday over an editorial in yesterday's issue of the Arbiter Zeitung. The article asserts that the state has no money for the police, but that it has a little, and, not least, will use these millions for the purpose of creating a standing army, which will be created for the purpose of oppressing the working people.

The article concludes: "When they have created a standing army, a military station, a Fort Logan, that means civil war, and death and destruction to the workingmen.

The workingmen, who are the best, the best, the most effective army, such as can be handled easily with training guns, should be disbanded, or pictures should be shown to them. Do not stand by idle and without plan, when your enemies are arming themselves to annihilate you. Your honor, your self-esteem demands that of you. Now there is time, but it may soon be too late."

Terrors of the Town Run In.
LAFAYETTE, Ind., Dec. 31.—Albert Hall, a negro, had been accused of having been a slave and having been a slave, and had been made themselves conspicuous as terror in Boone and Montgomery counties for some time past, went to Thorntown Tuesday and instituted a reign of terror, chasing people in the streets and the number of dangerous looking revolvers. After finding a place in the exciting spirit until it, they took from the public hitch rack a horse and sleigh and started toward Darlington. Pursuit was made by the Thorntown Horse-thief Detectives association, which sent a posse of men to the scene. Near Darlington they were overtaken, and left their sleigh and started across a field pursued by the officers. The fleeing negroes were fired upon and both wounded. They were taken into jail, and were held over on the evening train to Indianapolis. Hall was a man of a serious nature, but not necessarily fatal.

South Pennsylvania Militia.
New York, Dec. 31.—At yesterday's meeting of the South Pennsylvania militia in this city, Mr. Barrott's proposal to assist the enterprise if the rail were confiscated was voted down. A resolution was appointed to learn the views of the stockholders as to finishing the movement of those at yeast.

Police Judge Feathers His Nest.
CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—Police Sergeant Danforth, of Englewood, read statistics to the Northern Englewood Improvement Association, last night, calling to show that the rail was not the only rail that had received nearly $10,000 in the last six months, of which not one dollar had been turned over to the town treasurer. He also questioned Captain Markey's integrity.

A Minister Suicides Through Grief.
MACON, Mo., Dec. 31.—Rev. Clayton Kelse, a Presbyterian minister, committed suicide yesterday morning. He had been stricken by the loss of his wife, and had cut his throat with a knife, binding his neck from a beam in his barn. He had just returned from the funeral of his sister, and it is supposed that excessive grief over her death unbalanced his mind.

New Trial Denied.
TROY, N. Y., Dec. 31.—Judge Bassey has denied his motion for a new trial of Titus, the Hackettstown janitor, sentenced to death for the murder of Tillie Smith, a favor of passing c't.

Wife of Police Officer Dies.
CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—Police Sergeant Danforth, of Englewood, read statistics to the Northern Englewood Improvement Association, last night, calling to show that the rail was not the only rail that had received nearly $10,000 in the last six months, of which not one dollar had been turned over to the town treasurer. EVERYTHING was moving along smoothly this morning. It isn't every day we have such (n) material pavements.

PATRICK DUGAN and wife have sold and conveyed to Mrs. Hannah Burns a house and lot on the south side of Fourth street, east of Limestone, for $385.

Mrs. MATTIE CARS is closing out her stock of winter hats and millinery goods at greatly reduced prices. She invites an examination of the bargains she is now offering.

SHERIFF PERINNE and Mr. Sam. Raymond, Marshal of Mayfield, took Lure Middleton, colored, to the Lexington asylum yesterday. It was a go this time and no mistake.

THE UNIFORM RANK K. of P., assisted by Professor Knoll and the First Regiment, Band, will give a dance December 30, 31 and January 1st. Admission, 10 cents; ladies free. At Neptune Hall.

Persons who apply glycerine to their faces don't want to keep any carbolic acid near at hand. A young lady of Paris was burned badly the other night by mistaking a bottle of the latter for the former.

It wasn't an easy matter this morning to tell who had been taking their egg-nog, "eye-openers" and toddies and who hadn't. We trust the total absence of "fallers" didn't take advantage of the situation.

Tone up the system by the use of Ayers' Saraparilla. It will make you feel like a new person. Thousands have found health and relief from suffering by the use of this great blood purifier when all other means failed.

ELSEWHERE will be found the announcement of Mr. James S. Hise as a candidate for Mayor at the approaching city election. He enters the field a little late in the fight, having only two or three days to marshal his forces.

A series of meetings will be held in the Murphysville Methodist Episcopal Church, beginning at 6:30 o'clock next Monday night, January 3. Mr. Holmes Boulden, of Sardis, has kindly consented to act as cornetist. All are invited.

After a test of over fifteen years there can be little question as to the durability of the celebrated Diamond lens spectacles, and while they preserve the sight their lasting qualities are such as to make frequent changing unnecessary. The genuine are for sale by Ballenger.

For years' experience in every clime on earth has proved Ayer's Cherry Pectoral to be the most reliable remedy for colds, coughs, and all lung diseases. Neglected colds often become incurable ailments. Deal with them in time, and prevent their becoming deep-seated in the system.

At the watch meeting in the Sardis Methodist Episcopal Church this Friday evening, December 31, beginning at 9 o'clock, Rev. J. W. Harris, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, will preach. At 10 o'clock a prayer meeting led by James W. Bratton, followed by a testimony meeting conducted by John Robt. The exercises will close with a communion service and the ringing of the midnight bell.

Two friends of "Squire" Leslie Mannen will regret to learn that he was shot with a Roman candle Christmas night and will probably suffer a partial loss of his eyesight as a result of the burn. Some of the young men of Germantown were engaged in a battle with the candle at the time, and as Mr. Mannen, who was not a participant at all in the dangerous sport, came out of a store, a ball from one of the candles struck him near one of his eyes. His wound is painful and the burn may cause the loss of an eye. Fighting with Roman candles is too dangerous sport, and should not be allowed.

Railway Heading.

In a recent house mention was made of the fact that the Chattanooga Railroad in Eastern Kentucky had been ordered sold by the court at Covington. Alluding to this on the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette says:

A decree lately issued by the U. S. District Court, in Covington, Ky., for the sale of the Chattanooga Railway of Eastern Kentucky, is in accordance with an agreement made between the owners of the Cincinnati Railway and the Louisville, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis and Chicago Rail-road Company. This latter and company intend to complete a railway line from the Ohio river to Charleston, W. Va., January 1, 1880, thus opening up an entire new market for the coal of Eastern Kentucky, in extent, to Cincinnati enterprise, for there are no other of our great inland cities that can successfully compete with her for this trade.

Their plan seems to be to work from their terminal to the center, thus securing as fast as possible an advantage in carrying time. They are now extending the Cincinnati and Louisville, and by the first of next May will reach the extensive fields of coal and coke which are equal in quality to any obtained from abroad. When completed, the "Three C's" will have the Big Sandy River to Pikeville, then divide and cross the boundary into Virginia through the breaks of the Cumberland. Traversing three Virginia and five Tennessee counties, it will enter North Carolina, cross the mountains, and finally end at the Atlantic, passing through Black, Camden, Staunton and other considerable towns, it will finally reach tide-water at both Charleston and Georgetown.

Following that route it will be railroaded into a river truck like the east of the Cumberland Mountains, and by virtue of these connections will draw business from an immense field.

But to Cincinnati and Charleston merchants this road, when finished, will mean more than a new outlet for their products or commercial interchanges of the highest value. With the West Indians almost at the mouth of her harbor, and less than 750 miles of railroad connecting the two cities, Charleston will be the largest port on the Atlantic. Western goods and the products of the hand of the states and Western metals. Between the two cities will speed long trains thus laden, while every mile of the intermediate country will contribute to the tonnage.

The road will be an immense debt to our merchants and manufacturers. Between Marion, N. C., and Ashland, Ky., are fine iron ore, red, feldspar and brown hematite, and the high grade magnetic one of Cranberry. In the same belt are coal seams of the highest quality and great abundance.

The formation of the Hanging Rock district, when supplied with these ores and iron, will double their present capacity, while new ones will be built at various intermediate points. Steel mills will be erected at the coal and iron fields, and the line indicated—two hundred and fifty miles in extent—will be one of the busiest and most densely settled iron manufacturing districts of the United States. This population would naturally look to this city for its supplies, and the road will be built with an ever-increasing source of wealth and to our mercantile houses. First, the Hanging Rock district, then Southwest Virginia, East Tennessee and Western North Carolina, finally all the Alleghany Ridge from the Ohio to the open to Cincinnati enterprise. Our city secured at an immense cost the trade flowing into it over the Cincinnati Southern. The "Three C's" road will give us a trade vastly greater without any call upon us for its construction.

The switch to connect the Kentucky Central with the Mayfield and Big Sandy at this point will, we are informed, be built at an early day.

The first of about 250 car loads of ties for the Mayfield and Big Sandy Railroad have been received at the Kentucky Central depot and are being delivered along the route in the East End.

A number of Kentucky Central officials, consisting of Receiver H. E. Huntington, General Passenger Agent S. F. B. Morse, and Messrs. C. L. Brown, Epses Eps and James Stewart, arrived by special train last evening and spent the night here. They are inspecting the road and left this morning on return trip.

Mr. D. A. Shanahan, of the firm of Mason & Shanahan, railroad contractors, was seen by a Courier-Journal reporter a day or so ago and asked concerning the new road which Mr. Huntington is building from Ashland, Ky., to Cincinnati. Mr. Shanahan has been in charge of its construction, with headquarters at New- port.

Said Mr. Shanahan: "Work on the new line is progressing favorably. It is 143 miles from Covington to Ashland, but we expect to have the road-ready for the rails by next August. We will not, however, be able to complete the bridge across the Ohio river between Covington and Cincinnati before April, 1888. When this road is in operation it will give Huntington a direct line from Cincinnati to the East. At present his trains run over the Kentucky Central from Covington to Winchester. By the new route a haul of at least 100 miles distance will be saved."

"Will your firm do any of the work on the Louisville Southern?"

"We shall not. We have already enough work under contract to keep us engaged during the next year. I expect to go to Portsmouth, Ohio, early in January to take charge of a road which we have contracted to build from that point to Gallipolis. This road, except for a slight detour at one point, runs along the north bank of the Ohio river, and is nearly parallel with the new Huntington road running on the south bank."

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

REPORTED REVOLT ASSUMES A SERIOUS AND DEFINITE SHAPE.

Prominent Labor Men Working to Organize a New Order—Powdery's Views on Socialism—Two Thousand Brewery Employees Strike—Railroad Strike Ended.

New York, Dec. 31.—The revolt in the Knights of Labor seems to have assumed a definite shape. Some of the principal men in the order here, who have been dissatisfied with the management of the affairs of the order, have received circulars from dissatisfied knights in the west, suggesting the formation of another order of the Knights of Labor, outside of the order as it now exists, and on the lines that were originally laid down for the knights.

One of the principal laws of the proposed improved order is that as few officers as possible shall be chosen, and that salaries shall be in some way commensurate with the pay which the members could expect to receive. The idea is meeting with much favor here, even with the members of District Assembly No. 49, who have not been suspended, and one of the most distinguished members of the new order is a brother of one of the members of the general executive board. It is said that copies of these circulars have been sent to well known opponents of the present general officers all over the country, and that many members of the proposed order have already been found in the west.

The movement in favor of a special meeting of the general assembly is growing, and those in favor of it say that it will soon be to strong to be resisted. Mr. Wadsworth, who does not care to ignore it, and that a special session is certain to be called within the next three months. So certain are they of this that certain big trade districts which are on the verge of withdrawal have decided to withdraw, and the question of withdrawal is definitely settled. By doing this they will have a vote in the session. Until a special session is called there is no doubt that there will be a general withdrawal of one or more of the big New York trade districts.

The letter of Mr. Powdery on the Socialists has caused a sensation among the Socialists in this city. S. E. Schevith, the editor of the Volks Zeitung and the Leader, who is reported to be a Socialist, says: "I cannot conceive how a man like Powdery, who has been a member of the Socialist party, can have written such a letter. He does not seem to have an oligarchical spirit about him, and knows well the principles of the organization." The Socialists do not believe in force as an offensive weapon in the solution of the problem which the labor movement represents. Mr. Powdery keeps this in mind, and is one of the most active men in the Knights of Labor and many of his most ardent supporters are Socialists, affiliated members of the Socialist party.

No matter how much the capitalist class and the employers have done to innocent women and children as witness the trouble in Milwaukee and later in St. Louis, there is not a word of protest, and yet whenever a Socialist ever alludes to the capitalist class or the employers he is on or near, immediately receives some form of a letter. And yet Mr. Powdery did not hold these views, for I remember some years ago he made a speech at a labor picnic soon after one of the big affairs, and he said: "If these things continue, meaning the shooting down of people by the military, the trades union will have to get Gatling guns with which to defend themselves."

Freight Brakemen's strike ended.

JACKSON, Tenn., Dec. 31.—The strike of the freight brakemen on this division of the Mobile & Ohio railroad at Jackson, Tenn., began this morning, and the various towns are now clear. This forenoon the strikes, through their attorneys, notified Charles Hamilton, the superintendent, that if the police warrants against them and the warrents for the arrest of the leaders of the strike, next circuit court, were withdrawn, they would make no further resistance. Under this proposition the cases were continued until next Monday, at which time they will be withdrawn, and then make no more trouble. The strikers will not be reinstated, and the men were paid off.

The Chicago Painters' strike ended.

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—The painters' assembly of the Knights of Labor held a special session last night. A strong effort was made by the United Labor and the Knights to get the United Labor and the Knights to represent the painters' assembly in the Labor party convention to be held next week. After an animated discussion the proposition was voted down by a two-to-one majority. The painters' strike, though they are affiliated with the United Labor party, they would join it as individuals, but not as knights. One of them said that on March 15 the painters would demand forty cents an hour and eight hours.

Two thousand brewery employees strike.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 31.—The two thousand men employed by the breweries operated by the sixty-two firms belonging to the Philadelphia Lager Beer Brewers' association, struck this morning in accordance with a resolution of the employers last Friday. The strike is the result of the circuit's posted up in the breweries, giving notice of a reduction of wages to take effect next Monday.

Bloodshed feared.

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 31.—Four hundred men and boys employed in the Hillside mine here, who are members of the Knights of Labor, have been put to work, several of whom were assaulted by the strikers last night. A force of deputy sheriffs is now guarding the new men, and each laborer has been given a revolver. It is feared blood will be shed before a settlement is reached.

Catholics and the Knights.

MONTREAL, Dec. 31.—Through pressure brought to bear on the knights by the Roman Catholic clergy, some lodges have been closed. It is said that some members of the order are admitted to communion that should the pope finally pronounce against their organization they will resign.

Montreal Knights dissipate.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 31.—Papers in a big ope- ment case were filed in the county courts to day by the heirs of William James against the heirs of Hamilton Ingram, for the recovery of one hundred acres of valuable land in Franklin and Allegheny counties. Over forty heirs appear as the plaintiffs, and there are over twenty of the defendants. Among the principal heirs are some of the most familiar names of the country, among whom are S. Corning Jud, postmaster of Chicago; Judge James of Illinois;
